The Difference Between
New York Teams in World
Series in Their Offensive

YORK, Oct. 2.—In offense there is little to choose between the possible contenders in the 1932 World Series, as they appear grouped upon paper, with the aid of the fates.

On the latter basis the New York Yankees lead the Giants by one point, having a total of .318 to the Nationals' .318.

These figures are based on the hitting of Kelly, Frisch, Bancroft, Groh, Smith, Snyder and Nehf of the Giants; Pipp, Ward, Scott, Schang and Bush, Dugan of the Yankees.

In outfield strength the Giants are superior to the American League club, a mid-season average of .335 being totaled by Muesel, Young, Cunningham and Stengel of the Giants, to .316 for Witt, Ruth and Muesel of the Yanks.

The batting averages of the two clubs, including those men likely to cut a figure in the World Series, for and including the games of Thursday, September 14, follow:

Wins Southern Tourney

Abe Mitchell of England won the open championship of the Southern Golf Association at the Belle Meade Country Club, Nashville, Tenn., yesterday in a play-off with Leo Diegel of New Orleans, with whom he was tied Saturday after seventy-two holes of play.

TRI-FINALS BEING PLAYED HERE NOW

Bobby Hood Favored to Win in Country Club Golf Tournament Here Again.

The annual golf championship tournament in progress on the Fairmont Country Club course has simmered down to the tri-final matches which are required to be played this week. Last week marked the completion of the first round matches in which T. E. Johnson, J. G. Blair, Ed Holbert, Bobby Hood, E. F. Hartley, G. Gwyn, George T. Watson and S. W. Wright were the successful contestants.

Both upsets and true-to-form performances were in order during the first round. T. E. Johnson and G. Gwyn were the players who came through to victory over opponents of higher rating on the club handicap lists and they did so by superior golf. The outcome of the Holbert-Lowe match was somewhat of a surprise. Lowe, the low scoring judge, has been making during most of the season, but Ed Holbert played splendid golf and well deserved to win as he did by the margin of four up and three to play. Watson, Blair, Hood, Hartley and Wright were conceded the edge on their rivals and advanced to the tri-final round true to form.

Bobby Hood, present club champion, played steady golf against J. H. Rock, Jr., and won handily four up and three to go. Hood was consistent from the beginning to the end of his match with Rock, and it looks very much as if he will carry on to the final rounds and possibly will repeat his victory of a year ago. Jack Blair is putting up a pretty hard golf these days and easily defeated Morgan Chambers by three up and two to play. He appears one of the likeliest to continue through to the final round. George T. Watson played steady golf to win from his youthful opponent, R. Hutchinson, by two up and one to go; E. F. Hartley won from W. Smith two up and one to go, and S. W. Wright had a tight match with W. Miller, which he finally edged through with a win on the eighteenth hole.

Beautiful weather has had much to do with keeping up interest in the tournament, and close matches are looked for during the tri-final round to be played this week. The same will be followed by the semi-finals and the championship final playing just as quickly as the pairs get together and play off their engagements.

Parling now in effect by the tri-finals are as follows: T. E. Johnson vs. Jack Blair, Ed Holbert vs. Bobby Hood, E. F. Hartley vs. G. Gwyn and Geo. T. Watson vs. S. W. Wright.

It looks quite like the semi-finals are going to be played by Blair vs. Hood and Watson vs. Hartley but there's many a slip 'twixt the tee and the cup and member of the tri-final pairings may put up the sort of golf this week that upsets all calculations.

BOXING POPULAR
AT FARMINGTON

Exhibition Bout Attracts Big Crowd—Instructor Will Give Lessons.

FAIRMONT, Oct. 2.—The first show of the winter season at the high school auditorium was a success. To what was probably a record house the moving picture feature "Queen O' the Turf" was played, but this film was not the drawing card of the evening. The "big show" was the exhibition boxing bout between Charles Branch of Fairmont and Warren Strohecker of the local school faculty. For four rounds the big boys "mixed things" for the benefit of the large and delighted audience. Although the bout was merely for exhibition rather than for decision, there were several interesting moments before it was over. Both boxers are clever at the game, and the "manly art of self defense" was well illustrated.

Charles Branch, the Fairmont boxer, needs no introduction to sports fans of this section, who know of his impressive record, but Warren Strohecker, who hails from Freeport, Ill., is not so well known. His record, however, is just as impressive. Although he has no knock-outs to his record, he is a past master in the science of the game. For two years he was coach of boxing at the University of Illinois, and for three years held the intra-mural boxing championship of that school. Incidentally, he is also a letter man in football from the University of Wisconsin.

Arrangement have been made to stage boxing bouts similar to the one of Friday night, at frequent intervals during the winter. Next Friday the same two boxers will meet in a little longer bout, and on succeeding Friday nights the same or other boxers will meet. There is a double purpose in staging these bouts in the high school. The first is to draw a crowd to the moving picture shows which are being run for the benefit of athletics, and the second is to teach the science of boxing to the high school boys.

Mr. Strohecker will soon start giving regular boxing lessons to the boys who desire to take them, and as soon as some of them gain enough skill, they will be allowed to stage matches at the regular Friday night shows.

OCTOBER 2.

The sun which enters this sign on or about the 23d of September and departs about the 23d of October, should be given about six days before coming into full touch with the influences of the sign, Libra.

The scales of Libra tip very easily, and too often one scale touches the bottom with a dead weight, while the other swings aloft, unused and empty. Libra men are very fascinating, and they are reckless in following out the gratifications of their desires as they are in gambling games and speculation.

The governing sign of this date is Libra and the governing planet is Venus, the goddess of love. The birthstone is a diamond or opal and the astral colors are black and crimson.
